

Rusk In New Try To Limit Nuclear Arms

Seeking Soviet Union's Assent To Ban Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans a new effort in New York next week to persuade the Soviet Union to conclude a treaty against spreading nuclear weapons — without linking that issue to West German's role in the Atlantic alliance.

"If the Soviet Union and others want to talk about the problem of proliferation," Rusk told a news conference Friday, "they will find that the United States is willing to go all the way to insure that there is no proliferation of nuclear weapons."

Weekend Conferences

Rusk is scheduled to go to New York this weekend for conferences with other foreign ministers on hand for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly Tuesday.

One of those he is known to be most interested in meeting is Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Officials say the nuclear weapons issue and other disarmament questions will be high on the agenda of any Rusk-Gromyko meeting, along with the question of peace possibilities in Viet Nam.

Rusk will return to Washington late next week for a conference between President Johnson and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The United States and its NATO allies have discussed setting up an allied nuclear weapons system which would include Germany, but various plans have been shelved.

No Control Transfer

A reporter asked Rusk whether Erhard might be told by Johnson that Germany is not "to get a finger on the trigger" of nuclear weapons under NATO.

The secretary replied that the United States has never discussed in NATO or elsewhere "any arrangement that would involve... the transfer of control of those weapons into the hands of non-nuclear power."

Obviously speaking with the Soviet Union primarily in mind, he said what is important now is to separate the two problems, the German-NATO issue and the nonproliferation issue.

His statement that the United States "is willing to go all the way" for nonproliferation indicated this is the line he intends to take in his talks with Gromyko.

Want Space Treaty

"I have no doubt that if we could all concentrate on the problem of preventing the further spread of nuclear weapons, we could make substantial and rapid progress," Rusk said.

In past negotiations the Soviet Union has consistently linked the treaty proposal and the German-NATO question, contending that the United States intends to provide West Germany with nuclear weapons.

"I would hope that we could conclude a space treaty that would insure that space activities are concentrated on peaceful purposes," Rusk said.

"We would like to see some progress on a comprehensive test-ban treaty. But thus far we have not been able to solve the problem of providing sufficient guarantees of compliance among all those that might be parties to the treaty."

Michigan State Police Win Pistol Championships

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State Police took the 45-caliber competition and the all-round championship at Thursday's windup of the Indiana State Police invitational pistol matches. Michigan also was tops in the 38-caliber shoot Wednesday.

Individual winners in the 45-caliber shooting were Richard E. Brantner and Elwyn M. Burnett of the Michigan State Police; Anthony J. Viessman, Missouri Highway Patrol, and Paul C. Spavor, St. Louis Police Department.

Following the Michigan team in the Class A event were Missouri and Illinois State Police units. The Columbus (Ohio) Police Department won Class B competition.

U.S. Pilots Bag MIG; Marines Battling Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. pilots downed a Communist MIG in one of two dogfights over North Viet Nam Friday, but two American planes were lost in other action over the north, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

The Soviet-built MIG was knocked out of the sky by a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile in an engagement northeast of Hanoi in which three Americans piloting F4C Phantom jets were outnumbered by four MIG17s. The pilot of the struck MIG bailed out.

An Air Force spokesman said the two downed American planes brought to 375 the number lost over North Viet Nam. A total of 120 have been shot down in the south. He said 206 helicopters also have been downed in the south and three in the north.

On the ground, a Communist force of more than battalion strength opposed two companies of U.S. Marines today just three miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The Marines were believed to be fighting a reinforced North Vietnamese army battalion, or possibly two battalions. A Marine spokesman said the two companies "don't seem to be in any particular danger."

The fighting began about noon Friday. Since then the Marines had killed 50 Communists, according to body count. They estimated 110 more of the enemy have been killed, but this figure was not confirmed.

Space Pictures Show Gordon On Agena Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 11 astronauts today continued an extensive debriefing on their three-day space mission, recalling the exciting events for a tape recording.

The sessions here are called "self debriefings" in which Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. recite the events as they remember them in broad terms, with experts listening in.

The astronauts fly Sunday to the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., where they'll go into more detailed discussion of all phases of the flight, with specialists asking questions.

In Houston, they'll also have reunions with their families. Conrad and Gordon were flown here by helicopter Friday from the carrier Guam. They landed just two miles from the ship after completing their record-shattering space journey Thursday.

Of special interest during the debriefings will be the workload that exhausted Gordon and forced him to cut short a space walk. The questioning may lead to a solution to the problem of man working outside an orbiting ship — something U.S. space men have found to be difficult.

During the journey, Conrad and Gordon set seven new man-in-space records, including an altitude of 850 miles, quickest rendezvous and linkup with an Agena satellite, flying formation while tied to the Agena by a 100-foot tether and first automatic re-entry and landing.

Meanwhile, space center officials began releasing pictures taken by the astronauts during the historic voyage.

A 40-foot strip of 16mm color movie film showed Gordon straddling the Agena to tie a tether to the nose of Gemini 11. The movie revealed that Conrad described the scene well. "He's riding it like a cowboy," Conrad radioed to earth.

Soviets Paying U.N. In Bid To Retain Thant

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Soviet Union and Hungary are expected to make voluntary contributions soon to ease the U.N. postwar deficit, U.N. informants say.

They anticipated the contributions would be forthcoming in the next week or so, to fulfill vague, general commitments made over a year ago. The U.N. General Assembly session opens Tuesday.

Eastern European sources expressed hope that contributions would be forthcoming next week by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Some Eastern Europeans said the purpose was to encourage U Thant of Burma to accept a second term as secretary-general and to spotlight the United States as the main barrier to his doing that.

Thant gave notice Sept. 1 that he had decided against a second term. His current term expires Nov. 3. He cited such problems as a U.N. deficit, poor prospects for future U.N. peacekeeping activities, lack of universality in U.N. membership and the threat of a major war over Viet Nam as influencing his decision.

The Soviet bloc and France created the financial deficit by refusing to pay disputed General Assembly assessments for peacekeeping purposes. They differ with the majority over how to authorize new operations in that field.

The United States has been blamed for preventing the United Nations from becoming a universal organization by its opposition to seating of Communist China. U.S. policy in Viet Nam also has been criticized by Thant, who deplored "relying on force and military means in a deceptive pursuit of peace."

A U.N. committee has estimated the peacekeeping deficit at between $32 million and $33 million. How much the Russians and Hungarians will contribute is not known.

The 19th General Assembly in 1964-65 was stymied over the financial issue because the United States threatened to uphold a "no vote" article in the U.N. Charter which would deny a vote to any member two years behind in its dues.

The United States dropped that threat last year after all members agreed to make voluntary contributions to remove the deficit. But most of the members, including the Soviet Union, France and the United States, have yet to do so.

The prediction of Soviet and Hungarian contributions came Friday night after the 25-member Asian group had called for a solution to the problems worrying him to stay on.

In a statement issued after a private meeting, the group said it was unanimous in wanting Thant to continue and hoped all concerned would do everything possible to solve the problems so Thant "might find himself in a position to reconsider his decision."

Aids Meat Probe

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Juror Stuart Hoffman Friday announced the appointment of Harold S. Sawyer Jr., of Grand Rapids as special counsel to assist in his investigation of alleged illegal meat processing.

He has accused Powell capriciously of hiring and firing people and of holding up legislation approved by the committee so it can't get to a vote.

Joining them were Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York — who had not been expected — and who seemed to occupy the section of the box left vacant when U.N. Secretary-General U Thant failed to show up. He sent word that he had a toothache.

State Parks Have High Attendance

LANSING (AP) — Michigan state parks recorded 14.5 million daily visitors this year through Sept. 4, more than the total for all of 1965, the Conservation Department said today.

Included in this year's total was a record 312,550 camping families, it said, adding some 53,700 would-be camping families have been turned away.

Southern Lower Peninsula parks attracted just over 9 million daily visitors, while northern Lower Michigan parks drew 4.1 million. The total for Upper Peninsula stood at about 1.7 million.

Gibbons Claims Powell Beaten

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of the revolt against Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of the House Education and Labor Committee declares he has enough votes to win. Powell says "that remains to be seen."

Other committee members are avoiding newsmen or, if cornered, declining to commit themselves on the hectic battle between Rep. Sam M. Gibbons and Powell.

Gibbons plans to put to a committee vote next Thursday proposed new rules that would place all power over committee affairs in the hands of six subcommittee chairmen.

He told newsmen Friday he had promises of support from more than half the 31-member committee, including 13 of the 21 Democratic members. He

Strike Settled, Met Opens In Blaze Of Glory

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera opened its $45.7-million new home at Lincoln Center in a blaze of glory Friday night — and it almost seemed as though fireworks went off when General Manager Rudolf Bing announced from the stage that the musician's strike, which threatened future performances, had been settled.

Cheers went up from the audience already dazzled by the gala opening night, with Samuel Barber's new American opera "Anthony and Cleopatra" on one side of the footlights and a cross-section of the world's power and wealth on the other.

Leontyne Price sang the role of Cleopatra. The parents of her leading man, Justino Diaz, who played Anthony, flew to New York from Puerto Rico to attend the performance.

Bing had just come from backstage where he and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson — guest of honor at the opening — had met with the parents of Miss Price. Amidst the diamonds and the white ties, the Mississippi Negro farm tenant parents of the diva were like the embodiment of the great American dream.

With Mrs. Johnson in the state box, as her chief guests, were President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines and his wife Imelda in a pink and white, jewel-encrusted native gown called a terno.

Joining them were Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York — who had not been expected — and who seemed to occupy the section of the box left vacant when U.N. Secretary-General U Thant failed to show up. He sent word that he had a toothache.

Marcos Urging Step By Step Move To Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the United States welcomes efforts of Asian leaders to arrange Viet Nam peace talks.

Rusk was asked at a news conference Friday about a call by visiting Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos for "a continuing dialogue between North and South Viet Nam and step by step movement toward negotiated peace."

The secretary replied, "We of course would welcome any contacts that would elicit from Hanoi a readiness to talk about a peaceful settlement in Southeast Asia."

"It is not my impression that the government of the Philippines has found thus far a response from Hanoi," Rusk added. "But this is one of the possibilities that ought to be kept open. All possibilities ought to be kept open."

Marcos, appearing before the National Press Club in Washington, said a negotiated peace is the only logical solution to the Viet Nam struggle.

"Victory is the ultimate aim," he said, "but we must remember that there would be total annihilation of the world if there is continued escalation of the war."

Rusk also described Communist China as "a major obstacle to settlement" of the war. He said he had no doubt that "a substantial majority" of U.N. members would vote against seating Communists in place of the Chinese Nationalists in the world organization.

When he was asked to evaluate political developments inside Red China, characterized by what the Chinese call a "cultural revolution" and a purge of Communist party leaders, Rusk replied:

"I suspect what is going on is of some importance, but if I were to be frank with you I would have to say that I don't know what it is."

would not identify any of them. Powell would not say how many votes he could count on to support him but one of his aides said there were indications some members on Gibbons' list already had defected and swung to Powell's side.

The House leadership showed no sign it would intervene in the struggle. This was interpreted as a blow to Powell's hopes.

But the Harlem Democrat was expected to call on Negro leaders and friendly labor leaders in the home districts of committee members to help him try to rally support.

The possibility of a compromise settlement before the Thursday showdown was not ruled out by some participants in the fight, but Gibbons said he saw no such possibility.

"Either the chairman carries out the duties and responsibilities granted him, or he doesn't," the Florida Democrat said. "I don't see any middle ground."

The chief powers of a chairman that Gibbons would like taken away from Powell deal with the hiring and firing of committee staffers and the authority to bring legislation to the House floor.

He has accused Powell capriciously of hiring and firing people and of holding up legislation approved by the committee so it can't get to a vote.

Loken To Direct Training Session

Newt Loken, greatly successful coach of University of Michigan gymnastic teams since the sport was advanced to varsity level in 1946, will appear in Escanaba at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 6, as featured speaker for the Physical Education section meeting of the Upper Peninsula M.E.A. Conference.

Session will be held in the Junior High School gym, announced John Prokos, section chairman.

Loken, who holds a doctor's degree in education from Michigan, is a graduate of the University of Minnesota where he was both a Big Ten and NCAA gymnastics champion. After graduating from Minnesota in 1942, Loken spent four years in the Navy as a physical training officer, serving at Iowa Pre-Flight school, Georgia, Pre-Flight school and aboard the U.S.S. Prince William, an aircraft carrier which saw service in both the Pacific and Atlantic areas during World War II.

Coming to Michigan in 1946, Loken was named coach of the gymnastic team when the sport was renewed at Big Ten level a year later.

One of his latest publications, "The Complete Book of Gymnastics," has received worldwide attention. In charge of training Michigan's acrobatic cheerleaders, he has also written a manual on this subject and served as consultant for several Athletic Institute films and produced films on both trampolining and cheerleading.

He was named Coach of the Year in 1963 after leading the Wolverines to Big Ten and NCAA titles. Michigan is seeking its fifth straight Big Ten title this year.

Loken for two years has headed the All-American gymnastic team selection committee and is a member of the Helms Hall of Fame group and is also chairman of the U.S. Gymnastics Federation Committee.

Early Feeder Cattle Purchase Advised In State

The mid-September agricultural commodities report from Dr. John Ferris, agricultural economist at Michigan State University, points out that milk production for the previous month was down 8 per cent from last year; prospects for higher-than-expected fall hog prices are good; and cattlemen are urged to buy feeders early.

Ranges over most of the Northwestern quarter of the nation remain dry, supplying little feed. According to the USDA, livestock were being taken off these ranges earlier than scheduled with condition mostly fair to good. But mid-August rains did improve pastures from Texas northward to North Dakota and in much of the eastern half of the U.S. This seemed to buoy up the feeder market by about $1 per hundredweight. In mid-September, choice yearling steers (500-800 pounds) brought $26-$30 at Kansas City and choice steer calves (300-550 pounds) were ranging between $27 and $35.

Prices on feeders could be on a firm basis into the fall months, provided feed cattle hold at least at current levels. (In early September, choice slaughter steers were $25-$26 at Detroit). Feeder prices will depend to a great extent on the attitude of feeders. While chances are good that fed cattle prices will be higher in 1967, feed prices and credit will also be higher.

There seems to be little advantage in waiting until late this fall to buy feeders. Not only are they likely to be higher priced but there are certain advantages in buying feeders early — to utilize fall pasture and to get them acclimated to the feedlot. The feeder market continues to make calves somewhat more attractively priced than yearlings (for the feeder), although this relationship may change during the fall.

Camping Breaks All Records

With their 1966 season not yet over, state parks in Michigan have already entertained more recreationists this year than they did in all of 1965, the Conservation Department reports. Latest figures show that state parks had hosted about 14.3 million daily visitors, including a record 312,550 camping families, through Sunday, Sept. 4, of the Labor Day weekend.

This year's daily attendance tops the 1965 year-end total by 1.3 million people. Over 6,000 more state park camping permits have been issued than by the end of last December. Compared with last year's figures for the first part of September, daily attendance is up 22 per cent. Camping use is 34 per cent ahead of the year-ago pace.

Crime Record Compiled For Houghton Usage

As a result of the cooperation between the Community Action Agency and the County of Houghton, an innovation has been introduced. Walter T. Dartland, prosecuting attorney and chairman of the Community Action Agency for Baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw counties, was having difficulty in making decisions as prosecutor in many cases for lack of information on the individuals involved.

When the College Work Study Program was made available to the counties, Dartland requested the Houghton County Board of Supervisors to participate. The Federal Government paid 90 per cent and local government 10 per cent of the wages of two college-bound local girls who went through the records of each of the justices of the peace in Houghton County and compiled a central index on every crime and ordinance violation committed in the county.

The result of the summer's activity was a central file now available for the use of all law enforcement agencies in the county. Dartland said that this helps him make decisions based on prior performances of record and also helps justices of the peace mete out sentences in accordance and tendencies and trends spotted in individuals. "It will not only allow us to publish adequate but will also permit the office of the prosecutor and the local law enforcement agencies to do preventive work in the field of criminal law enforcement," stated Dartland.

We Fish, Says Phil DeGraff, But We're Selling Nature

One of the most ardent and practiced promoters of the Upper Peninsula is Phil DeGraff of Trout Lake.

Actually he's of Florida, too, because he spends June through October at his Trout Lake resort and November through May at his Grape Arbor Lodge on Pine Island, Fla.

One of the old timers of U. P. resort development, he takes a personal, dramatic hand in the hosting at his establishments and he has become even more famed in downstate Michigan than he is in the U. P. as a sponsor of nature tours.

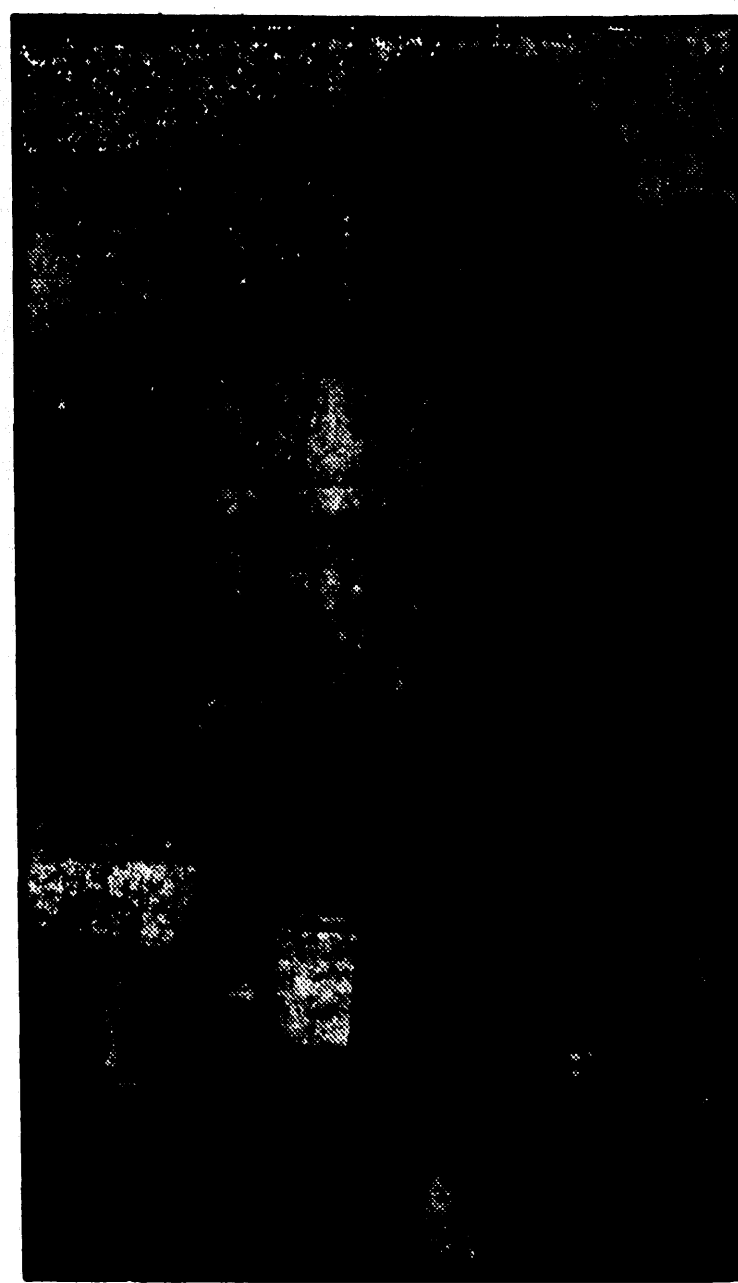

He has just concluded a six part series in the Grand Rapids Press on the beauty of Upper Peninsula flora with an installment titled: "Escape Hay Fever; See U. P. Wildflowers." A sampling says "The prize of the fall flowers is the sky blue Fringed Gentian. These should not be picked because they flower in the second year and then die. They grow best in moist ground and may be found near Lakes Michigan and Huron."

Anything Green
Phil DeGraff can throw a small rapture over such a lowly plant as ground pine, which most Upper Peninsulans regard as a sort of worn carpet in the forest. He urges our fall visitors to seek out the tiny orchid called the Star of Bethlehem.

"Northern Michigan winters are so long," he writes "that anything which stays green is pure joy and greatly treasured. Mosses, Ferns and ground covers all add to the enjoyment of the fall season above the Straits of Mackinac. The breathtaking display of tree leaves turning vivid colors begins toward the end of September."

DeGraff is also author of an article "Let Nature Work With You" in the September issue of the magazine Resort Management, published in Memphis. Drawing on his own ample experience, he counsels other resort operators "Take a good look around your resort and its environs, just to see what natural benefits you have that you might use for entertainment... and then practice conservation by seeing to it that nothing happens to your free entertainment features. The beauty about just looking at and enjoying things is that they aren't consumed by use."

Just To Fish?
"Take any fishing camp, for example. Too often the proprietor thinks people come to his place for only that one thing—

PHIL DEGRAFF makes a batch of pancakes for his guests — with blueberries in the batter, no doubt, because things northern should have a northern flavor.

fishing—for, after all, that's all he's ever sold them.

"We have fishing" at Trout Lake, but we don't yarp about it as a main attraction. We intend to be in business for a long time, and want to keep the fishing good, for the years to come... not go out of business because the fishing is no longer interesting due to depletion of the supply. We conserve our supply by making our private lake for sport fishing only, unless someone catches something he wants to eat himself. Other fish are released so that the fun of fishing will continue.

"Do you have a bog or swampy area near your resort that you have been planning to fill in to remove its 'unsightliness'? This could be turned instead into a sport of major interest to many of our guests. If you have a lake it doesn't all have to be with sparkling sand beach. Rushes, pond lilies, white water lilies, submerged plants all have an interest for many folks if they are pointed out."

Nature Trails
"For some 30 years at Trout Lake Nature has been our main attraction. Our only outside maintenance is dock upkeep and the painting of boats. We have laid out nature trails, using daubs of vari-colored paint to keep guests on course. Small signs point out many of the interesting plants, trees, bushes, flowers, ferns and mosses. "Here at Trout Lake at the close of dinner each night a council fire is lighted near the lodge, and guests sit around it gabbing until the wee hours. The poor things can't have an outdoor fire at home. This is probably one of the most popular things we do for our guests.

Crying For Notice
"Every Wednesday we drag everyone 42 miles to the Lower Tahquamenon Falls where we broil half pound hamburgers over an open fire, make coffee and fill out the balance of a good luncheon with odds and ends from the lodge.

"Most afternoons we schedule informal trips for the guests to some nearby interesting spot like a stream that disappears underground, a hillside where cold springs have special kinds of plants growing in their wetness, a trout hatchery in a wilderness setting, an abandoned quarry on a hill where wild fruits may be picked while acquiring a first-hand view of geological formations, a Lake Superior beach of pure sand where rarely does one see other people, a working sawmill. There are interesting spots in every locality which are crying out to be noticed—and at no cost to the resort proprietor."

State Orders 35 Modernized

The State Highway Commission announces that work will begin this fall on a $3.1 million 10.5-mile modernization project on M-35 in Marquette County.

Contract specifications call for grading, paving and widening of the present roadway to 24 feet with 10-foot shoulders from the Marquette-Delta County line near McFarland north to Little Lake.

Additional lanes will be required in some locations to bring the right of way to a uniform 180 feet throughout the project.

Traffic will be maintained during construction.

The project will include grading, culvert construction and paving. Work should be completed by July 31, 1968.

Sept. 30 Deadline For Hunt Permits

Michigan hunters getting ready to fill out their applications for 1966 antlerless deer hunting permits are urged to double check their completed forms before mailing them to the Conservation Department's Lansing office.

Department license officials are particularly reminding each applicant that he must designate the number of the special area where he hopes to hunt antlerless deer this fall. Many early applicants have made the mistake of putting down the names of counties instead of area numbers.

In response to another apparent misunderstanding noted in early entry returns, hunters are advised NOT to return their license number tags with their applications.

Postmark deadline for permit applications is Sept. 30.

TB Death Rate For U.P. Rises

The Upper Peninsula had more tuberculosis deaths in 1965 than in 1964 or 1963 and its rate of TB deaths per 100,000 population went from 3.2 in 1963 and 5.9 in 1964 to 6.6 in 1965.

The 6.6 rate was the highest in the state, higher even than troubled Wayne (Detroit) County's, which was 6.2. The national TB death rates for these three years were 4.9, 4.3 and 4.2 and those for Michigan as a whole were 3.7, 4.0 and 3.5.

A decrease in TB deaths was reported in every county in Michigan except Wayne, Kent, Saginaw and Muskegon downstate and for the 15 counties above the Straits of Mackinac composing the Upper Peninsula. The Lower Peninsula TB death rate in 1965 for Lower Peninsula counties with more than 100,000 population was 2.0 and for counties under 100,000 it was 1.9, compared with the U.P.'s 6.6.

The state total of 289 deaths was an all-time low and so was the 3.5 rate.

Escanabans On Recovery Mission Of Gemini Flight

Navy Chief Yeoman Robert A. Erickson, son of Mrs. Andrew F. Erickson of 225 Stephenson Ave., is aboard the USS Guam, prime recovery ship of Task Force 140 for the Project Gemini GTA-11 flight which picked up Navy astronaut Pete Conrad and Richard Gordon this week.

Special equipment had been taken aboard the amphibious assault ship to facilitate handling of the spacecraft during recovery operations. The spacecraft was retrieved by the ship's aircraft handling crane. The crew of the Guam had undergone extensive training in spacecraft recovery techniques since her selection for the mission.

Normally operating as a unit of the Atlantic Fleet's Amphibious Force, the Guam will return to this duty following the completion of the Gemini mission.

Boatswain's Mate 3/c John C. Colvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clovis C. Clovin of 509 S. 14th St., is a crew member aboard the destroyer USS Forrest Royal, which was also a unit of Task Force 140 for the Project Gemini GTA-11 mission of Astronauts Conrad and Gordon.

Sportsmen's Assn. Meeting

Ask Hunt Group Abolished

The Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association will be asked to vote in favor of abolishing the Citizens Advisory Committee on Deer when the organization conducts its annual convention in Republic Sunday.

A resolution submitted by the Tahquamenon Sportsmen's Club of Newberry states that the committee do "not contain representatives from all the sportsmen's clubs in the U. P." and the recommendations of the committee do "not conform with the desires of the NMSA as set forth at past conventions."

The committee was established after last fall's disappointing deer season to advise the Michigan Conservation Commission on setting antlerless deer seasons. Eight committees of 35 members each were appointed. Four of the committees were in the Upper Peninsula and the other four in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Ask Record Certified The Republic Sportsmen's Club, which will host the convention, has filed a resolution urging that a seven-pound brook trout taken from Squaw Lake last spring by Wiljo Kangas of Republic be certified as the official record Michigan brook trout.

The state record for brook trout now is listed at nine pounds, 12 ounces, taken from the AuSable River in the northern Lower Peninsula in 1909. However, it is considered possible that this specimen may have been misidentified as a brown trout. Kangas' trout was inspected by Conservation Department personnel and positively identified as a brook trout.

Other resolutions submitted to Howard Brown, Newberry, NMSA president, prior to the convention include:

1. That the bounty on foxes and bobcats be reinstated and that the coyote bounty be retained.

Forestry Policy

2. That the Conservation Department discontinue commercial timber stand improvement on state-owned wild lands and concentrate instead on developing game habitat on these lands.

3. That trapping beaver within 50 feet of an active dam be prohibited.

4. That destruction of beaver dams by the state be prohibited except where there is danger of damage to roads or to occupied farm lands by the dams and that flooding and cutting of state-owned land not be accepted as a reason to destroy beaver dams.

5. That no private owner on any waters in which the state has property be subjected to any costs that may be incurred in poisoning or any other method used in eradicating trash fish.

6. That property be purchased by the state at the mouth of the Big Huron River to insure coho salmon fishing and future plantings.

Recount Hikes Gingrass Vote

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Mayor Jack Gingrass of Iron Mountain, a Democrat, will face Republican James Goulette, also of Iron Mountain, in the November election for representative from the state's 109th legislative district.

Gingrass had an unofficial margin of 25 votes over Rep. James Constantini, also of Iron Mountain, in the August Democratic primary. Constantini demanded a recount of the district's 86 precincts.

In Dickinson County the recount added one to Gingrass' lead. In Menominee he picked up three and Iron County he had picked up an additional 20 to make his margin 49 votes when Constantini called off the recount Thursday.

Left uncounted were the district's four precincts in Marquette County and two in Gogebic County.

Phil Ruppe is symbolic of NEW THINKING, of a new kind of Dedicated Determination for a Better NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Here's a man about whom you are going to hear a lot. His is a keen, alert, disciplined mind, closely tuned to Northern Michigan's unique problems. He is a native-son . . . Phil knows our problems.

The Ruppe family is widely known, respected and four generations old in Northern Michigan. A third-generation member, Phil Ruppe, now has emerged as a New Face in Northern Michigan Politics. The new face is young, age 39; proudly and happily married to Loret Ruppe, also young, age 30. In the Ruppe tradition, it's a Family Man's face. Phil and Loret Ruppe have five lovely daughters.

Meaningful Decision:

Last year Phil Ruppe made what he calls "the most important decision of my life." He decided to seek election as Michigan's 11th Congressional District Representative to the U. S. Congress. Growing numbers of Ruppe supporters—workers, farmers, businessmen and others from all walks of life—have since been singling him out, because of his forthright manner of thinking and speaking, as the man deserving of representing them in Washington.

Down-To-Earth Intelligence:

Phil Ruppe says he just "happens to be a graduate of Yale University." He takes greater pride in having been a laborer and rank-and-file union member. He talks and understands the problems of the working man. Having headed a large Upper Peninsula business enterprise, he can also talk the language of businessmen.

Phil Ruppe's thinking about the need for change reflects thinking throughout Northern Michigan. He firmly believes Northern Michigan's problems of economic development, rising food costs, static income levels and rising personal and business taxes are uniquely its own. He feels deeply that those problems should no longer be tinkered with by representation in Washington which has been nothing more than rubber-stamping of national programs that leave Northern Michigan forgotten, in an "orphan" role.

A Determined Man:

Of major concern to Phil Ruppe is that Northern Michigan, "because it offers so few job opportunities," is one of the nation's biggest exporters of youth to other areas. He is dedicated, determined to helping build a Northern Michigan "our young people will want to inherit instead of escape from."

Phil Ruppe is a man who is worried, irritated and angry about Northern Michigan's "long political disinheritment, lack of economic progress, excessive Big Mac Bridge tolls—and especially about government-planned inflation." He is determined to do something about those problems.

If you share his worry, irritation, anger and determination, Philip Ruppe is the man you can and should vote for on November 8. If you want to help, write: Phil Ruppe, Woodland Road, Houghton, Michigan 49931.

Mental Care Costs

Delta County is currently wrestling with the problem of organizing mental health services. It would probably be more accurate to say that it should be wrestling with the problem, because Chairman Charles Sedenquist of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, which is the agency most immediately concerned, says that the board hasn't been approached officially yet on the subject.

There have, however, been many stories in the newspapers about the problem and it will inevitably come to the board's attention. It is a matter of great importance and apparently one which the board of supervisors finds a little outside its usual interest and scope.

At a meeting of representatives of the many agencies interested in the problem, Chairman Sedenquist expressed wonder why yet another public service expense has to be referred to the board of supervisors. The answer is that the board is the administrative body of county government and this is a county problem. The county already is spending more than $3,000 a year in support of the existing child guidance clinic and adult mental health clinic serving the county and it is proposed that a much more complete program of mental health services be organized and that Delta County be billed for an additional $3,000 a year for its share of the sponsor cost.

(The program would cost much more than that, the sponsor share is estimated at a quarter of the total cost.)

The proposal is for mental care services rendered here in Delta County, and the proposal is being opposed by the Delta agencies in part because it is too little, not too big. They want it to include the assignment of a full time psychiatrist to the Escanaba Clinic, along with the psychologist and psychiatric social workers of the staff. The present proposal is for only itinerant psychiatric service for Delta and Schoolcraft counties out of the Marquette headquarters clinic.

Local professionals say that there is ample work to keep a doctor of psychiatry fully employed in diagnosis and therapy at the Escanaba Area Clinic. This is the way that services should be developed here and it is to be hoped that Marquette will agree to this proposal for organization of the four county Mental Health District. It would also include Alger and Schoolcraft counties and it offers Delta a much better opportunity to develop an adequate mental health program than would be possible on Delta's own resources.

Because treatment of mental illness is a sort of hush-hush business, the implications may not be generally clear. Delta County Probate Judge Marie Peters, who is charged with committing patients to Newberry State Hospital, made a contribution to public understanding of the problem with an illustration.

"A man," she said "came to see me about his wife. He thought that she should be sent to Newberry for treatment. I urged him to take her to the psychiatrist at Marquette instead. He asked about fees and he was willing to pay them. It developed that the woman did not need hospitalization. Except for the availability of this service we would have sent the woman to Newberry Hospital for diagnostic examination at a cost to the county of $8 a day."

In other words, the county would have had a hospital expense of $500 to find out that hospitalization wasn't needed.

The incident is illustrative of the need to fit mental health services to individual needs. Efforts to get psychotics out of the mental hospitals (as public charges) and to get them under treatment in their home communities have been quite successful and promise even more achievement with development of the program.

County supervisors, considering a new public commitment for mental health service, should be as mindful of the possibilities for economy as they are of the possibilities of enlarged tax expenditures. And especially mindful of the need for effective use of any funds voted for this purpose. This is not a new problem, but it is a new prospect for solving more of it.

Finding The Way

From Hell . . . Heaven

By RALPH W. LOWE, D. D.

Twenty years ago, Frankfurt, Berlin and hundreds of other cities were in ruins. To see them at that time was not only to weep at the destruction of architecture; it was to cringe at the ruined lives. Men walked with shuffling feet and stared through skeletal faces with unlighted eyes.

At that time I knew a man, as gaunt and suffering as the rest but with a flame burning in him. Otto Fricke had defied Hitler, had suffered in his homeland and had believed in 1946 that he could assist political refugees. He wanted to build a village from the rubble of Frankfurt.

Seldom have I seen a man more captivated by a great idea. The place reeked of hell and he talked of heaven.

Recently we returned for our third visit to Heilsberg near Frankfurt. The neat homes now house 4,000 persons. The gardens are prosperous and the whole area is a place of peace.

It is hard to believe that all of this has come to pass in 20 years. For this is no professional builder's suburb; these houses were built by the community and these people have constructed a new environment for freedom.

The bricks were made of clay and rubble; the dream was made of faith and hope.

The little church, financed by a congregation of American Christians, is now outgrown and a new church towers on the ridge overlooking the great plain that stretches into Frankfurt. I

RACING

Referring to the letter of Sept. 15, I think Mr. Johnson's letter deserves an answer, as we are local and interested fans too. Anyone that was really watching that race on Sept. 3 could see Bob Iverson hitting Jerry Richer on every corner in that race. It's very funny how Mr. Johnson states how Bobby touched Bill Ansell's tire but how Jerry smashed Bobby's car in the pits. I'm sure those who saw both could honestly say it was just the opposite. Any damage to Bobby's car happened during the race and not by the little bump he got from Jerry in the pits. Bob does have a nice car, one of the heaviest modifieds there, and a fast car, but his driving technique leaves a little to be desired. Both drivers have their own loyal fans which is as it should be, but if anyone wants to be truly honest and fair they would have to admit that Jerry Richer is one of the fairest and cleanest drivers on that track. I think that if he had pulled something like that in the Sept. 3 race he would be the first to admit it and take the consequences like a good sport. We enjoy the races very much and hope they will continue in the future. There has been so much trouble lately that it seems they may not last as long as we would like.

After all the Gripe Committee should be able to make the decisions they feel is right.

PLEA

I have been involved with racing for the past 12 years, and we never had any of this childish and unportsmanlike actions in the past as we have now.

What are these unnecessary letters and complaints to the Press going to solve, other than start more trouble and bickering? If we cannot be a good sport and take our punishment, we should not join racing or any other sport. The letters of Sept. 8 and Sept. 15 have many "false" statements. Any person who is interested enough in good racing and has a complaint should attend the club meetings and have it brought up at a meeting, so it can be taken care of correctly, not repeating untruths in our press.

The letter of Sept. 15 states the gripe committee "ignored" Bob's complaints and again on Saturday evening Sept. 10. This was not ignored! They also did not make up the rule. This rule was made up at a meeting. Five members were elected by the Peninsula Stock Car Club. They tried to do their best, to try keep the races "fair" and "safe" for each driver! But on the evening of Sept. 10, two of the members were in a public place, and had to take abuse by the barred driver's brother and Norbert Beauchamp. Do you think this is fair? Who will want to take this job next year, if they can't make a decision and be able to go out in public without unpleasantness.

Racing is at its best this year, so let's each and every one of us grow up and stop the feuding and let the club members, make the decisions so we can bring back the good sport of racing as it was in the years past, or I'm afraid racing will fold in Escanaba.

No Tax Hike 'Till '67

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Despite the endless talk, there is still no real likelihood that President Johnson will propose general income tax increases before 1967 — if then.

The reasons go beyond the old and obvious bit about no tax hikes in an election year. In fact, though there is official discussion of some less than general tax increase which might be slapped on quickly by the dying 89th Congress, even that has serious drawbacks.

Tricky aspects are involved in the move most often mentioned — temporary suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit given businesses which invest in new equipment.

This would be aimed, of course, at throttling down record investment outlays, a decisive element in today's overheated economy.

In the matter of general individual and corporate income taxes, it is a very good bet that if the President should ultimately ask for increases they will be tied tightly to the rising requirements of the Viet Nam war.

Economists and government officials debate continuously the use of tax boosts as a weapon against inflation. But the truth is that in the whole post-World War II government they have never been broadly applied solely and specifically for that purpose.

Since World War II ended two decades ago, there have been four separate reductions in individual income levies and just two increases. These latter came back to back in 1950 and 1951 and were justified officially by the vast outlays of the Korean war. Corporate taxes were elevated in those same years and no other time in the 20-year period.

Conscious of that history, Lyndon Johnson will not move in the general tax front (it does at all) until he can point to the Viet Nam war's extra demands, estimated at $10 billion to $15 billion for next January, and say:

"Our boys fighting in the rice paddies must have this money."

People, Events

Of Yesteryears

From the files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

Escanaba public school teachers heard Mayor Sam R. Wickman discuss the proposed increase of one mill in county taxes at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium.

As soon as the architects, Hubert and Gjelsteen, Menominee, complete a revision of the plans, construction of a one story building, 75 by 140 feet, would be started on the Fitzpatrick estate property at the corner of Ludington and North Twelfth Street.

50 YEARS AGO
A lighting system that will give the post office employees light for every nook and corner of the building was installed by John Knutson of the Home Electric Company.

The second round for the Bayview Golf Club championship was started between the following players: Banks against Wicking; Driscoll against Farrell; Waldstrom against Boles; and Corcoran against Boyle.

Toronado Is Big Influence

LANSING (AP) — The influence of Oldsmobile's sporty Toronado model was much in evidence in the division's 1967 line which was shown to a national press gathering.

"This is particularly true in the new 88's and 98's which benefit heavily from Toronado's styling influence," said Olds general manager Harold N. Metzel.

On these cars, the rear deck length has been slashed by five inches and the hood and front fenders increased by a like amount.

The Toronado, which Olds introduced in the 1966 model year, got a new grille work and headlight placement. Metzel said of the front-wheel drive Toronado, "We have engineered a smoother, quieter ride without sacrificing any of this year's outstanding handling characteristics."

The Olds 88 model lineup was changed somewhat as the Jetstar 88 was dropped as was the Dynamic 88 and the Starfire. A new Delmont 88 series replaced the Dynamic 88.

Metzel said one of the most significant of Olds new safety features was a considerable change in its braking system.

"Our engineers have made much progress on brake developments and increased capacity and effectiveness of these braking systems have been achieved by use of a larger power cylinder," he said.

Olds, as old Buick earlier, said it would have front wheel disc brakes available as an option.

Ann Landers

Laddie Doormat Reforms Her Ways

Dear Ann Landers: After reading the letter from "Too Close For Comfort" I am compelled to give you the other side of the story. "Too Close" described how her mother beat, belittled and constantly picked on her father for 50 years.

Did it occur to you that a man who lets his wife hen-peck him for half a century is no saint. He is just plain dumb.

My husband and I were married too young — both 18. After seven years and three children he announced that he was moving out. I was shocked.

Reason: He was sick and tired of listening to me finish his sentences, correct his English in front of friends and compare his income unfavorably with others in our crowd. He had become fed up with my domineering ways and said so.

After a week I asked him to come home. I hadn't realized what I was doing to him and I admitted it.

All this happened many years ago and we've gotten along extremely well ever since. Once, Ann, you wrote, "If you don't want to be treated like a doormat, SAY something — don't just lie there." Why didn't you say that this time? — FORMER HEN-PECKER

Dear Former: Thank you. I will. If you don't want to be treated like a doormat SAY something. Don't just lie there.

Dear Ann Landers: I know women who quote you right along with the Bible. You can get ideas across like nobody else. Please print this letter for the benefit of all mothers who have small children.

Mothers: Please stay out of it when your youngsters are having their little arguments and fights with playmates. Children can be mad at each other one minute and be the best of friends the next minute — if they are left alone.

The woman who lives next door was forever getting involved in her children's battles. She was always running to neighbors to protest the way their kids were treating her kids. Naturally, the parents defended their own kids and got into a fight far more bitter than the little squabble the kids had.

My neighbor is now on the outs with everyone in the block and I really feel sorry for her. So, Ann, please warn other mothers not to make the same stupid mistake. — NO REF-EREE

Chrysler Canada Export Totals Reach 65,200

TORONTO (AP) — Chrysler Canada Ltd. exported 65,200 cars to the United States during the last 12 months and imported 26,800 under terms of the Canada-U.S. auto pact, president Ron W. Todgham says.

During a press preview of Chrysler's 1967 models, he said this year the company will produce 70 different models in the Dodge and Plymouth lines for sale in both Canada and the United States, and draw from U. S. plants for Canadian requirements in other car lines.

Building Program

ALLEGAN (AP) — Plans for a $100,000 building program at Allegan's Pughman Airport have been approved by the City Council. Construction of a maintenance building and 16 hangars is to be financed by a 30-year bond issue.

Puff Pastry Basis For Napoleons

A dessert that's as elegant as real puff pastry only made in half the time and with half the work!

Only three ingredients are required to make the "Can Do" Puff Pastry for these flaky Napoleons — butter, all-purpose flour and sour cream. Just mix, refrigerate and roll out once — no folding and re-rolling in this recipe. Imagine the fun you'll have surprising your family and guests with homemade Napoleons — a bake shop specialty you made yourself.

NAPOLEONS
"Can Do" Puff Pastry
1 cup butter
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup dairy sour cream

Cut butter into flour with pastry blender until completely mixed. With a fork, stir in sour cream until thoroughly blended. Divide dough into 2 equal parts; wrap each and refrigerate 8 hours overnight. Heat oven to 350 degrees. Roll one part of pastry on well-floured cloth covered board into rectangle, 12x10 inches. Cut into fifteen 4x2-inch rectangles and place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush each rectangle with sugar glaze (below). Bake 15 to 18 minutes or until lightly browned. Repeat with second part of pastry. Cool. Frost and decorate sugar side of 10 rectangles with confectioners' sugar frosting (below); set aside. Spread chocolate filling (below) on sugared side of remaining pastries. Stack three rectangles together; top should be a frosted rectangle. 10 Napoleons.

Sugar Glaze: Mix 3 tablespoons granulated sugar and 1 tablespoon water.

Confectioners' Sugar Frosting: Mix 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with 1 tablespoon milk. For decoration, melt 1 square (1 oz.) semisweet chocolate; drizzle on frosted rectangles.

Chocolate Filling: Prepare 1 package (about 4 1/2 oz.) chocolate instant pudding as directed on package except — substitute 1/2 cup dairy sour cream for 1/2 cup of the milk.

Dear Folks:
Gifts for a son or friend overseas?

We are sending our son in the Air Corps a subscription to our hometown newspaper. All I did was pick up the phone and put in the order.

Did you know that newspapers would send the paper direct to them? This way they get all the hometown "gossip" and never miss what WE forgot to write about.

It's about the most reasonable, most appreciated gift there is.

Love,
Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When using your machine, much thread can be saved by stitching into a narrow strip of heavy paper (I use cards that have snaps, buttons, etc., come on) at the end of each seam, leaving only room to clip it away.

Start your next seam close to the card.

The needle never becomes unthreaded, and it's amazing how much thread one saves.

Sewing Susan

Dear Heloise:

Here is another use for the nylon net:

Nylon net scrubbers are perfect toys for wet babies. They are easily kept clean and fresh, are lightweight, can be dropped, thrown, "scrunch-ed" or whatever, and best of all, are most economical for all of us on budgets.

Barbs

Dear Heloise:

I found another use for nylon net.

I made drawstring bags to hold my flower bulbs which I store in the basement in the winter.

The bulbs will be identified by a slip of paper (or a picture of the flower) tucked inside the drawstring bag.

Tagging Collar Study Shows

U.P. Deer Range 9 Miles

Recovery of 45 more automatic tagging collars showed that the deer that wore them traveled an average of 9.5 miles from winter yards to summer ranges in the Upper Peninsula.

Adult bucks shot during the past hunting season had moved an average of 11.5 miles, almost twice as far as the average 6.6 miles for adult does.

The seasonal movements varied from zero (for deer killed in the same area in which they were tagged) to upwards of 33 miles for an adult buck. The largest travel distance for an adult doe was logged by one that was shot 25 miles away from her wintering ground.

"The degree of dispersal appears to hinge on such factors as the size and type of yard and how it is situated with regard to upland habitat," said Louis J. Verme, biologist in charge of the Cusino Wildlife Experiment station in Shingleton, which is conducting the study of seasonal deer movements. "We may find that deer occupy a smaller home range where the forest landscape is very mixed, whereas animals move more extensively if the summering area is composed of pure cover types in large blocks. Broadly stated, the amount and interspersed of important edge may be the prime influence controlling deer seasonal movements."

Deer are marked on their wintering grounds by means of a self-attaching plastic collar, which was developed at the Cusino station. These devices function like a snare, except that the collar portion breaks loose from the anchor wire when it locks securely around the animal's neck. By means of this device, field men are able to mark large numbers of deer in various yards with a minimum of time and effort.

Since the tagging program was begun several winters ago, 1-

530 deer have tagged themselves with collars placed on heavily traveled runways in deer yards in the Upper Peninsula.

Garbage Pits Doom Bruins

Hunters Kill Park Bears

The Upper Peninsula's state parks are in an Indian Summer period of unusually large visitation after a record breaking summer, and a shoot-off of park bears.

The parks reported that hunters in the early September bear season were ringed about the park garbage pits to kill the bears that had been feeding their all summer.

The parks reported operation which started with an unusually large number of campers remaining in the U. P. over the Labor Day holiday weekend despite bad weather in many areas.

The season shattered records of all kinds with unprecedented volumes of park visitors and of campers.

At Fayette State Park the restoration work on the iron smelting ghost town site building proceeds and the electric wiring will be put underground.

Bear Hunters Abound
Planning for machine shop interpretation continues and the park staff is working up drawings of the engine rooms for future restoration. The furnishing of the doctor's quarters is at a standstill because of the need for more materials—old pictures, mirrors and furniture of the period: 1860-90.

At Brimley the campground has sheltered bear hunters and hay fever fugitives. Bewabic Park reported the first fall coloration.

Indian Lake State Park workers caught a wildcat and one of the rangers was bitten in the capture. McLain Park ended its season on a sorry note as a two-year-old boy slipped from the Portage Canal breakwater and drowned.

Muskallonge Park reported "bear hunters swarming like flies—many of them carefully guarding the dump." Similarly Porcupine Mountains reports "Quite a few bear hunters in the area—three bears shot at the park dump on the opening morning of the hunt."

At Straits Park the Father Marquette Pageant and Mackinac Bridge Walk increased camping and day use of the park.

Tahquamenon Falls State Park reported "Despite the continued aggravation and frustration involving the elusive bear which haunted the Lower Tahquamenon Falls campground during the summer, the park staff was saddened to learn that 'Limpy' had succumbed to a hunter's bullet on the first day of the early bear season. He will be missed —but we are glad he wasn't." Twin Lakes reported "People are scarce" and Baraga: "Foul weather accelerated holiday exodus."

Bob Freimuth, former Escanaba Country Club golfer, captured his fifth Calumet-Laurium Golf Club men's championship this week. Freimuth carded a 224 in the 54 hole medal play tournament. Runnerup was Mike Augustine, two strokes off the pace.

St. Ignace, the school that produced star quarterback Barry Pierson last season, has an outstanding fullback this fall in Ken Brown, a 170 pound speedster. Brown lugged the leather 32 times and gained 323 yards as the Saints scored victories over Pickford (28-0) and Canadian Soo (33-6).

Calumet's classy senior halfback George Oikarinen is the leading scorer among Upper Peninsula high school backs entering the third week of the season. Coach Wayne Sickler's ace has scored seven touchdowns and a PAT for 43 points. Calumet also boasts a sharp passer in quarterback Dennis Hansen who has tossed for three touchdowns and two extra points in two games.

Coach Tom DeBakker of Bark River-Harris has two all-conference gridders among his returning veterans this fall. Honored as members of the Wolverine all-conference squad, selected by coaches at the close of the season, were guard Joe Pach and end Pat Sagatow.

The Upper Peninsula high school football season has barely started but basketball is not far behind. The annual Michigan High School Athletic Association's basketball rules meetings will be held throughout the state next month. Escanaba will host a rules meeting Friday, Oct. 28, at the high school.

Harold Johnson, Escanaba Area Public High School athletic director, has announced dates for this fall's Parents Day and Homecoming football games. Parents of players and cheerleaders will be honored on Oct. 8 when the Eskymos host downstate Alpena. Homecoming will be the following Saturday, Oct. 15, in the game against Marinette.

Jerry Lutri, former outstanding Stephenson High School athlete, will be in the starting lineup for the Northern Michigan University Wildcats when they tangle with University of Akron in Ohio tonight. Lutri, who starred in football, basketball and track at Stephenson, is a 235 pound sophomore tackle who will get the nod on defense from Coach Rolfe Dotch. Lutri earned a varsity letter at Northern as a freshman under F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacka last year.

Green Bay West High School, where former Escanaba athlete Mike Mileski is now serving as assistant coach, got off to a successful start this fall by defeating Green Bay Southwest, 45-13. Mileski will be head track coach at West in the spring.

Nice Ball Club, Says Halas As Rams Rip Bears

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "They've got a nice ball club," said George Halas, the 71-year-old patriarch of the Chicago Bears.

"Any win in the National Football League is satisfying, but to beat George Halas and the Bears is extra special," said the Los Angeles Rams' rookie coach, George Allen.

That was the best, or worst, Allen and his former boss had to say after the Rams beat the Bears 31-17 Friday night before a crowd of 59,916 in Memorial Coliseum.

Allen agreed to pose shaking hands before the game with Halas, but Halas politely declined. The usual game-ending handshake was apparently mutually ignored.

The Rams go into Green Bay next Sunday with a 2-0 record. The Bears draw a bye and are 0-2.

Chicago had its chances Friday night and Halas could not be too pleased with the way the Bears let them slip away.

Leading 24-17, the Rams twice fumbled away the ball in the final four minutes. The Bears took over each time on the Los Angeles 19.

The Bears got nowhere, on two runs by Gale Sayers and six incomplete passes by Rudy Bukich.

In the final two minutes, Bukich's pass attempt from his 42 after a Ram punt was gathered in behind the line of scrimmage on a leap by 6-7, 250-pound defensive end Lamar Lundy, who lumbered 33 yards for the touchdown which put the game out of reach.

The defense took the play from a series of spectacular offensive plays.

An 84-yard pass play, Roman Gabriel to Jack Snow, put the Rams on the scoreboard in the first period.

Santana Faces Rafael Osuna

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Manuel Santana of Spain faced Mexico's Rafael Osuna today in the feature semifinal of the fifth Colonial National Invitation tennis tournament.

Ham Richardson of Dallas, the only United States survivor, encountered South Africa's Cliff Drysdale in the other semifinal.

Osuna, in his sweep to the Colonial title in 1964, defeated Santana in the finals, but rated the underdog role against the top-seeded Spaniard today.

Drysdale, the No. 2 seed, was favored over Richardson, a former Davis Cup player who was not seeded in his fifth appearance here.

Santana gained the semifinal in the weather-plagued tournament Friday with a 6-3, 10-8 victory over Alabama John Pickens, a Rice University student.

Osuna eliminated Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the tennis star of the early 1950s, 10-8, 5-7, 6-2.

There was a 94-yard kickoff return by the Bears' Dick Gordon, but he fumbled into the end zone when overhauled on the Rams' three and kicker Bruce Gossett recovered for a touchdown.

Manistique took to the air lanes in an effort to shake their losing streak and the move paid off as the Emeralds completed 25 of 45 passes for 245 yards.

Bob Cowman was on the throwing end of 41 tosses and connected on 23.

While Manistique controlled the air, Munising ruled the land. The Mustangs galloped for 170 yards and added 64 by hitting 8 of 20 aerials. Ray Kinnunen and Tom Gattis romped for 138 yards in 31 carries between them.

Manistique made its stunning bid for victory in the fourth quarter after they trailed by a 23-0 margin.

Cowman started it when he pitched a payoff pass to Gary Sample for 15 yards in the early minutes of the final frame.

Dave Barton took a lateral and then connected on a short toss to Sample who broke away on a 63 yard jaunt for the second half. Barton's kick was good and it 14-0. The Emeralds held the Mustangs deep in Manistique territory, but McCurdy was tackled in the end zone for a safety and Munising led 16-0 at halftime.

Neither team scored in a rugged defensive third period but Munising clicked early in the fourth quarter when Gattis streaked 37 yards to paydirt on another quarterback keeper.

That made it 23-0 and set the stage for Manistique's stirring rally.

Mackinac College Bell Rings

MACKINAC ISLAND — The new college, headed by the Oxford-educated dean, Dr. Morris Martin, combines high academic credentials with unusual professional backgrounds and enthusiasm for the college's aims. Forty per cent of those selected for the first-year faculty hold the doctoral degree. Among them are Dr. Yu Tang Daniel Lew, a Harvard Ph.D., who left his ambassadorial post to head the Political Science Department; and Dr. Franklin Chance, a Ph.D. in chemical engineering from Tennessee who until recently headed research and production for Pfizer International.

The freshmen curriculum offers a four-course program in each semester. In addition to modern languages, Western European history and English, Dr. Martin announced a distinctive course, "Ideas in History," taught by a faculty team from different, but related fields. In the freshman year the origins and growth of mathematics and the natural sciences will be studied. At the sophomore level the course will probe into the social impact of man's ideas about his nature and destiny. Dr. Martin explained that in both sections, "emphasis is placed on the great innovators, their revolutionary ideas, and the effect, for good or ill, upon the life and conduct of their own and succeeding generations."

For its dean of students Mackinac picked a two-time Olympic gold medalist and Yale graduate, Richard D. Wailes, who will be responsible for all non-academic student activities, and will work with the Physical Education Department in the sports program.

Mackinac College's charter of incorporation was granted in October, 1965, after a review of its plans by the State Board of Education. It is a fully independent, non-sectarian, co-educational college granting the Bachelor of Arts degree. Each year a new class will be added with a maximum total student body of 1,000 planned in the next four or five years.

Its 19-member Board of Trustees includes men and women from every part of the United States, representing a cross-section of educational, professional and business backgrounds.

Classes began today for a freshman student body of 114 at Mackinac College, Michigan's newest four-year liberal arts college, which stands on a 21-acre campus overlooking the Straits of Mackinac.

Students have come from 30 and Canada to enroll in the charter class of a college which announced its goals going beyond academic excellence and the training of the mind.

In the words of its president, Dr. S. Douglas Cornell, Mackinac College is "designed to produce graduates with finely trained minds and more — the determination to exert responsible, selfless leadership in meeting the challenges of our times."

"We have a remarkably talented class," Dr. Cornell stated, "with high expectations. They want the best intellectual experience that we can provide, but they are looking also for a clear understanding of the central economic, social, and ideological issues of the modern world. They welcome a challenge to responsible concern for their country and their fellow man."

Dr. Cornell, who was for 12 years executive officer of the National Academy of Sciences, pointed out that the faculty of

Business Discovers 'One World' Concept

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — If you are curious about the number of foreign brands on the American market — names such as Sony, Olivetti and Simca — your counterpart abroad is just as curious.

In every continent of the world American names such as Chrysler, General Motors, Caterpillar and U.S. Rubber — Unroyal — are showing up with more and more regularity.

Their appearance is clear evidence that the business world is arriving at the concept of One World before diplomacy or politics can make it one. Hundreds of companies here and abroad now treat the world as a single market, regardless of geographical boundaries.

Among the methods used are: —Manufacturing and distributing products in a foreign nation rather than exporting to it. —Exporting in great volume. —Joint ventures in which a foreign company becomes a partner with an existing company or licenses it to make a product.

General Motors is one of the most prominent, with manufacturing plants in seven countries and assembly operations in 15 others. It exports to many more.

Caterpillar is a multinational corporation mainly through exports, having sent abroad last

Candidates For State Offices Clash On Issues

LANSING (AP) — The 14 Republican George Washington, meanwhile, said the major issue in his race against Secretary of State James Hare would be whether the state's driver violation point system is currently well administered.

Two candidates for governor disagreed on state finances. Two aspirants for attorney general argued on pretrial publicity, and a pair of would-be secretaries of state clashed over how well Michigan's traffic violation point system works.

Although warning the state and nation are going through "a period of inflation and uncertainty," Gov. George Romney pointed with pride to a state treasury surplus as of last June 30 of $167.5 million.

His Democratic opponent, Zoltan Ferency, Thursday pointed to that same surplus, but criticized it. He said Romney would have spent more of it on education, mental health and water pollution control.

Ferency and Romney both said they would, if elected, submit tax reform proposals to the Legislature. Ferency indicated he might seek a state income tax.

"If elected," he said, "I will submit a tax reform program to the Legislature which will provide as much revenue as possible within the flexible limitation." The State Constitution prohibits a graduated tax.

Income Tax

Ferency did not yet have a proposal to ask for an income tax, but he did say, "A three per cent flat-rate personal income tax with a $1,000 or higher exemption per person would permit some graduation."

He also said that, if necessary, he would lead a petition drive to change the constitutional ban on the graduated tax.

Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley, who has been charged with the job of Law Enforcement, said he would not support a new income tax. He said the state has a reputation across the country as one of the best in the nation.

Controls Coming

U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., was one of the speakers Thursday. He said "Washington's answer" to the wage and price controls are coming right after the election, and I am sure it is no news to you that a wage-price freeze in income taxes is going to be urged by the administration again, right after election day."

He did not provoke a debate because Griffin's Democratic opponent, G. Mennen Williams, was not there. Williams still is recovering from a kidney operation.

Also absent from the 24-hour conference was Supreme Court candidate Meyer, Warshawsky, who was celebrating the Jewish New Year Thursday.

Fare For Mouse Is A Bit Sticky, Refund Likely

WAKEFIELD, England (AP) — The hunt was on today for a bus conductor who charged a fare for a mouse.

"Charging for a mouse riding in a bus is taking things to extremes," said an official of the West Riding Automobile Company.

Judith Sharp, 10, lodged the complaint against the conductor. She said he demanded a fare of eight cents for her pet mouse George, who measures 3½ inches from nose to tail and is carried around with Judith in a little box.

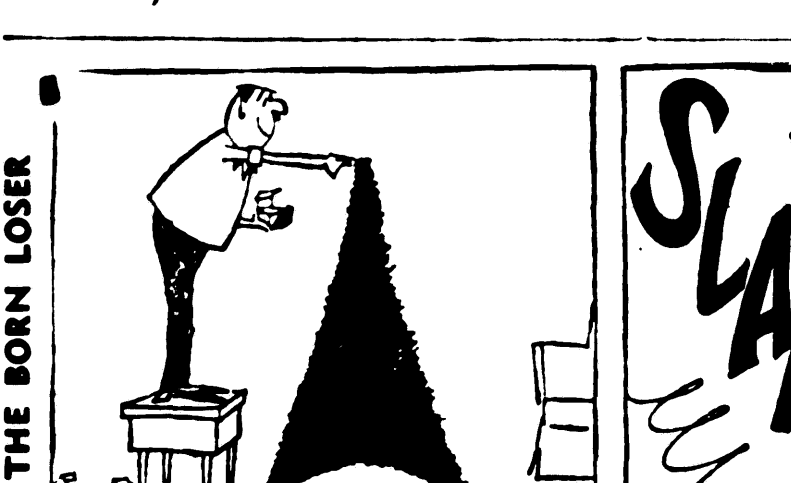

"The conductor looked at the box and saw George through the air holes," Judith related. "He demanded the fare on the ground that all animals must be paid for."

"I think it is most likely that George's fare will be refunded," a company official said.
